Bio:

With a penchant for catchy guitar riffs and pensive symbolism, founding member John Feodorov formed The Almost Faithful in the fall of 2014 with the intention of combining his songwriting with his ongoing multi-media art practice. With the addition of vocalist Andrea Krajeski, guitarist Kurt Keydel, bassist Hal Deranek (aka The Pope of Bass), and drummer James Lord, the band has evolved into a complex hybrid of influences and styles that in many ways transcend the original vision John had for the band. While Kurt, Hal and James bring a virtuosic and grittier edge to John's philosophical lyrics and wandering melody lines, Andrea imbues each song with an honest and yearning energy—hovering emotionally between the vulnerable and heroic.

Their influences include artists such as Talking Heads, John Cale, PJ Harvey, XTC and Gang of Four.

Earlier this year the band released a debut six-song EP, "a city dreams". Their music is available on Spotify, iTunes, Amazon and most other streaming outlets. The EP received a positive review from

Northwest Music Scene, stating:

"This five-piece takes you on a journey that is at times progressive, often alluring, into a dreamscape of sounds. The EP begins with "My Soul is Saving Me" and "We," two songs that alone would make a solid offering, but the band never stops delivering on songs that are worth listening to and repeating. [...] Where many bands would fail with mixing silvery vocals and grunge-tinged progressive rock into one consistent package, The Almost Faithful succeeds brilliantly."

Points of Interest:

- "My Soul Is Saving Me" was recently featured on Seattle Station KNDD's Locals Only radio show.
- The "a city dreams" ep was recently ranked #12 on KAOS radio's Top 30 New Music Charts, beating out some great bands such as White Lung, Nada Surf, and Tacocat! What an honor!
- The Almost Faithful will be opening for "The National Parks" on August 11th at Columbia City Theater in Seattle.
